BlueFlower Fund Endorses Timiya Jackson for Denver School Board District 4

DENVER — BlueFlower Fund, a grassroots organization dedicated to electing pro-choice, progressive Democratic women in Colorado, has endorsed Timiya Jackson for Denver Public Schools Board of Education in District 4.

“I am honored to have the support of BlueFlower Fund, an organization that has consistently invested in women leaders who stand up for equity, justice, and reproductive freedom,” said Timiya Jackson. “Their belief in the power of women’s leadership mirrors my commitment to ensuring every student has access to opportunity and a school system that listens to families, values diversity, and delivers results. On the board, I will work to advance transparent, student-centered policies that reflect those values.”

BlueFlower Fund is known for championing women candidates across Colorado who prioritize progressive leadership and policies that strengthen communities. In their endorsement of Jackson, they highlighted her deep ties to Denver, her track record of serving students and families, and her vision for making Denver Public Schools more equitable, transparent, and accountable.

Since its founding, BlueFlower Fund has pooled grassroots donations from supporters to strategically invest in women candidates who will fight for reproductive health, freedom, and justice. Their endorsement adds to the momentum building behind Jackson's campaign to deliver strong, principled leadership for District 4.
